Delivers Four Addresses in Connecticut, Each One of Considerable Length.

PARAMOUNT POLITICAL ISSUE.

It is Not the Country's Prosperity but The Trust Question-Private Monopoly Indefensible.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 31 .- The visit of William Jennings Bryan to Connecticut today must have strongly reminded him of the strenuous days during his presidential campaigns, for he delivered four addresses, each of considerable length, attended two receptions and was the center of handshaking bees whenever his admirers could reach him. All this was crowded into the hours between noon, when he eached this city, and the hour of his retirement tonight as the guest of former Senator Archibald McNetl of Bridgeport. Everywhere he was heartreceived, although there was an absence of street demonstrations both here and in Bridgeport. His audiences, astic and especially at the noon lunch-

The features of the day were the juncheon and the conference of the New England Democrats. At the former Mr. Bryan was welcomed to the city and state with a cordiality that for warmth has seldom been extended to a visitor, and at the latter he stood representative body of New England Democrats and with great earnestness spoke of the problems which the party must face in the coming campaigns. Mr. Bryan said in the course of this address that New England never had been a "good breeding place for Democracy; Jefferson had considered it so; neither did

A delay at the start of Mr. Bryan's trip caused an overlapping of the three meetings here, to the disappointment The mass meeting on the green had to be started before the luncheon was actually over, and the Democratic conference was not completed until it was time for Mr. Bryan to deliver his third address of the day. The chief change in the program here was the inclusion of ex-Gov. Gar-vin of Rhode Island as one of the other speakers after the address he had prepared for the luncheon had been ruled out as being out of place at a strictly non-partisan gathering, the change being made at the last moment. Mr. Garvin spoke at the luncheon, however, paying a tribute to the uprightof Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan left New Haven for Bridgeport shortly before 6 o'clock, in that city going to the home of Mr. Mc-Neil for dinner and later addressing in audience at the armory. Both of is main addresses at the mass meet ngs were along the lines of his addess at Madison Square Garden last night, touching upon issues which he has declared to be of paramount importance at this time. Toastmaster Dr. A. B. Fuller wel-comed Mr. Bryan for the Democratic club, and Mayor Studiey for the city.

when Mr. Bryau had concluded he was cheered enthusiastically for several minutes, after which ex-Gov. Garvin of Rhode Island made a few remarks in which he said Mr. Bryan was to be complimented upon his success, both here and abroad.

After Congressman Lentz had con-cluded, Mr. Garvin spoke. Mr. Garvin had prepared an address to have delivered at the luncheon, but, the com-mittee in charge having decided that this affair was to be strictly non-partisan. Mr. Garvin was invited to make his principal address at the green. He also spoke briefly at the political conference. Mr. Garvin said:

paramount political issue. But issues are born, not made to order. As a matter of fact, the masses of the people do not feel themselves to be really prosperous. On the contrary, they are painfully aware that the trusts and kindred monopolies which are wildly prosperous have become so by the ex-ploitation of the common people. "The people have studied with horror the exposures of venal legislators and corrupting corporations, and they have watched with care the course of Congress in its attempt to deal with a few of the worst monopolies.

"In the coming fall campaign the votes for congressmen will show whether the country is satisfied with the result of the well-meant efforts of President Roosevelt to curb the trusts.

"From the nature of the case, the reluctantly passed railroad rate bill and the pure food law will not halt for a single day the march of the trusts over the bodies and souls of the American people. Chronic diseases cannot cured by treating symptoms only The removal of the cause is the first and most essential step. MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH. Mr. Bryan was introduced during deafening applause and held the attention of his big audience for nearly three-quarters of an hour. He said among other things:

"I have found that the government is to a very large extent an accurate effection of the intelligence of a people. for when there is great ignorance, there is usually very bad government. Where the people are not trained to studies and do not for themselves understand the issues, they are taken advantage of by those who do understand. And I have been encouraged to find that everywhere there is a tendency to en-large the sphere of education, for it means that there will also be growth in the government toward perfection.

"Now, today, the Democratic party is a policy. The Republican party has a policy. The Republican party does not outline its policy as the Democratic party does. The president to-day is embarrassed by the fact that you can search the platform upon which he was elected with a magnifying glass and you cannot find one sin-gle promise of reform on any subject. The trouble with the president has been when he tried to do anything he had to whip the Republicans into line with the Democratic platform instead of the Republican platform. And the trouble with the Republican party in this campaign is that its motto is, Stand pat: defend what you have got and don't promise anything more.' They say, 'Stand by the president.' my friends, the only way you can stand by the president, if he really wants reform, is to give him a Democratic Congress to back him instead of a Re-

"My friends, I believe that a private monopoly is an indefensible thing. You cannot find a Republican platform that denounces the principle of private monopoly. The line is going to be drawn. We are going to find out who is in favor of exterminating a trust and who is not in favor of it. The man who is in favor of regulating might just as well take off his mask and declare himself, for you cannot regulate a private monopoly. It regulates you.

"I tell you that arbitration is a forceful thing. I tell you that the president of the United States has to his declared to be of paramount imtance at this time. At the conclusion of his speech Mr.

Bryan left at 5:40 for Bridgeport.

AT BRIDGEPORT. Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 31.—Enthusi-asm for Mr. Bryan marked his appearance in this city tonight. Mr. Bryan spoke in the Bridgeport armory. For an hour Mr. Bryan assiled the Republican party on its attitude toward the questions now before the American people. He said that the Republican party had had a to repeal every law that has not con-tributed to the peace, happiness and prosperity of the people, and it was his intention to show why the people are not happy.

On the tariff question he said the policy of the Republican party has contributed to the present unrest and there is no promise of reform. The high tariff was made by the manufacturers. blessings do not prevent the p members from threatening its over-throw, but the men who made the tariff demand their blood money, Moreover, the tariff is antagonizing every other nation; it makes them raise bar riers. Germany was overjoyed at the beef scandals. It was said there of the United States: "If you won't let us sell to you we won't buy of you." In England two years ago during a great discussion of the fiscal question, the doctrine of retaliation was advocated.

Mr. Bryan referred to the last speech of President McKinley which was a plea for reciprocity, and said that since the death of the lamented president his party had absolutely failed to heed that advice.

"My friends," said Mr. Bryan, "there is a great revolution in the Republican party. Ten years ago the Republicans said they could go into the street and pick up a man anywhere who could be elected president; elx years ago they said there were hundreds who could be elected. Today they say there is only one man who can be elected on a Republican platform; and that man has been following Democratic principles. Is there any lesson in that?"

In the course of his discussion of the trust question Mr. Bryan said that he "The Republican leaders are trying to make the country's prosperity the "ties in prosecuting the trusts."

INSURRECTION SPREADS IN CUBA

Only Province in the Island Remaining Perfectly Peaceful Is Puerto Principe.

SITUATION GROWS DARKER

Cubans Called Upon to Lay Down Their Arms and Save Republic From Intervention.

Havana, Aug. 31.-The situation is far darker tonight than at any previous time since the insurrection broke out. News of an uprising in Santiago province, while not yet published here, is spreading about the city and causing the gravest concern. When Mr. Sleeper, the American charge d'affaires here, was told the contents of the Associated Press Santiago dispatch, he endeavored to verify it through the state department, but was told it was absolutely untrue. Subsequently the dispatch was verified from private and newspaper sources. The extent of the rising in Santiago is not known, but it is the opinion here that the worst calamity of all to the Palma government would be an insurrection in eastern Cuba. The Associated Press was informed tonight by two reliable eyewitnesses that Car-denas, which hitherto has been considered a perfectly peaceful city, was the scene yesterday of desultory fighting between police and rural guards on the one side and roving insurgents on the

The only province remaining perfect-ly peaceful in Puerto Principe. Americans having great cattle interests there are apprehensive lest it, too, become the field of insurrectionary operations. The Associated Press correspondent at Clenfuegos telegraphed tonight that there are 3,000 armed insurgents in that vicinity and that all the small towns in Santa Clara province are controlled by insurgents, who attack and loot trains and seize the property of for-eigners as well as of Cubans. Trinidad is surrounded by insurgents, and the government appears powerless to protect the property of Americans other foreigners. Railway trains are held up at will and passengers searched. The Cuban Central railroad has declined to assume responsibility for the safety of passengers or freight. Recruiting for government forces is making good progress here. The government continues to make fine headway wherever there is open fighting. The troops in the western portion of Pinar del Rio province have not yet come up with Pino Guerra, and, according to the Associated Press correspondent with the troops, there is no present likelihood of their doing so, as the troops might march for 10 years and all the while Guerra would still be just ahead of them in the hills. There are thousands of mountain trails with which the Insurgents are familiar and which lead in all directions. If Guerra cared to harrass the government their troops could be killed off by sharpshoot-ers. The government has no cavalry in Pinar del Rio, and the only real soldiers are the artillerymen, but as they are afoot they cannot cope with the well mounted veterans on the insurgent side. Guerra does not want to fight. His scouts can always be seen at a distance from the government line of march. The correspondents report more looting by Guerra's men. There are many rumors in circulation as to what may happen Sept. 15, unless a new election is granted.

To add to the general apprehension, the American Protestant missionsion, the American Protestant mission-aries of Havana, who are in general charge of field, say that reports from missionaries outside of Havana are practically unanimous in stating that the insurrection is sweeping all the country districts in the western half of the island, and that they are unable to continue their work and ride over the routes in their several disover the routes in their several dis-tricts. The increasing gravity of the situation has revived discussion of the possibility of intervention by the United States. La Discussion, the semi-official organ of the administration, in an editorial this evening calls upon Cubans to lay down their arms and save the republic from the danger of intervention. The article appeals to the patriotism of the people, depict-ing the results of intervention, as fol-worse than death. It would be pre-ferable if the Carribean should engulf the Pearl of the Antilles."

The article further appeals thus to "The colored race may tremble before the possibility of intervention. Americans hate and despise negroes. Even their own negroes, whom they have been in contact with for 200 years, are treated like dogs, lynched and hardly considered human. If it is so with negroes of their own land and language, what would happen to the Cuban negro?"

As to what the whites might expect ander American intervention the ar-

"Our courteous comrades in the public department will be superseded by men of the type of Bliss (Gen. Tasker H. Bliss), who, when administrator of customs, asked nobody to be seated in his office, and who forced the use of the English language. Also instead of our deliberate and refined judges we should have Judge Pitchers (alluding to Capt. William L. Pitcher of the Eighth United States infantry, who in his office, and who forced the use 1899, was police magistrate and super-visor of police of Havana) with their '$10 or 10 days.'

Furthermore we shall have with us beer drinking American officers with clanking spurs, masters of all, captivating our adorable virgins. That this may occur, Cubans fight against Cubans, making room that Finlanders, Germans, Americans, Spaniards may come and enjoy the fecundity of our soil and air, the murmuring of our rivers, the beauty of our moonlight nights, the kiss of our sea and even the love of our women, all because it is said the elections were not fair. Is there no other remedy except plac-ing our necks under the yoke of Uncle Sam? This war can have no other end but intervention.

Surrenders in small numbers are reported from various places, the largest being at Venero, on the boundary lines of Matanzas and Santa Clara, where 25 men forsook the insurgent rising in the city of Havana, although the city contains a great many insurg-ents. Many foreigners are registering themselves at their consulates.

President Palma was asked tonight by the Associated Press to give his view of the present situation and whether he believed there was a possibility of arranging a peace with the insurgents in a manner acceptable to the government. He replied, "I regard the present time as inopportune for making a statement for publication, but perhaps in a day or two, or within a short time. I may give you my Missoula, Mont., Aug. 31.-A special dispatch to the Missoullan from Saltese tonight says that Ed Flynn, a mining was shot and instantly killed by Alvin McKinney at 6 o'clock this evening. There had been a standing quarning. There had been a standing quar-rel between the two men for years and McKinney bears the scar from a bullet said to have been fixed by Flynn years ago.
